IT'S A KNOCKOUT

Games are getting tighter here in Cincinnati. With pools and crossovers out the way, brackets now are settled for the WFDF 2018 World Ultimate Club Championships. Getting there wasn't easy for many – 12 of yesterday's games were decided by a single point, with fans and players here and across the world being treated to spectacular plays and truly dramatic outcomes.

The Women's division round of 16 went to seed, setting up some sizzling matchups tomorrow as Revolution (COL), HUCK (JPN), and 6ixers (CAN) will do their best to knock one of the five (!) American teams off on route to semi-finals.

The only two Men's pre-quarters that didn't go to seed were won by Nomadic Tribe (JPN) and TCHAC (FRA). The latter was achingly close, and saw the French team overcome a late-game Callahan which pushed the game to double-game point.

Elsewhere, the USA continue to dominate with all 13 teams qualifying; next is Canada, with a team in each division, three in total. In the Mixed division, GRUT (NED) turned around early tournament disappointment to face Wild Card (USA) in what will surely be a thrilling replay of the opening ceremony showcase game. Game on!
